DETAILED ACTION

1. The Applicants' amendment filed January 25, 2007 is acknowledged. Claims 9, 39 and 43 are amended. Now, Claims 1-64 are pending.
2. Claim objection(s) in the previous Office Action (Paper No. 081906) is/are removed.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. code not included in this action can be found in prior Office Action(s).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

4. Rejection of Claims 1-10, 12-20, 25-44, 46-55 and 59-64 under 35 USC 102(e) as being anticipated by Matayabas (US 6 469 379) is maintained because the rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 3[5] of Paper No. 081906. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The focus argument related to the core patentability is discussed below.

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 10, 1st and 2nd paragraphs), Examiner disagrees because the instant claims do not exclude the presence of any additional ingredients. Applicants are further reminded that although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 10, last paragraph to page 11, 2nd paragraph), as mentioned in the previous Office action, the Si-H containing polydiorganosiloxane and the vinyl-containing polydiorganosiloxane have different solubility parameter. Since Matayabas' composition reads on the claimed one, both should possess the same characteristics. Applicants are reminded that phase separation and forming a protective barrier are not claimed. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

5. Rejection of Claims 1-14, 16, 18-20, 22-23, 25-48, 50, 52-57 and 59-64 under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Mine (US 6 040 362) is maintained because the rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 4[6] of Paper No. 081906. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The focus argument related to the core patentability is discussed below.

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 12, last paragraph to page 13, 2nd paragraph), as mentioned in the previous Office action, Mine's components A) and B) have different substituents, Examiner has a reasonable basis to believe that each has a different solubility parameter. Mine teaches the use of the composition be used in applications such as connecting heat-generating semiconductor elements to substrates (col. 8, lines 21-41), i.e., thermal interface applications. Applicants are reminded that phase separation is not claimed. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

6. Rejection of Claims 1-15, 17-26, 35-49 and 51-60 under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Theodore (US 4 292 225) is maintained because the rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 5[7] of Paper No. 081906. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The focus argument related to the core patentability is discussed below.

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 14, last paragraph to page 15, 2nd paragraph), as mentioned in the previous Office action, Thoeodore's vinyl/allyl group-containing polydiorganosiloxane and Si-H containing polydiorganosiloxane have different substituents, Examiner has a reasonable basis to believe that each has a different solubility parameter. Applicants are reminded that phase separation is not claimed. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

7. Rejection of Claims 1-5, 8-10, 12-15, 17-18, 25-39, 43-44, 46-49, 51-52 and 59-64 under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Hanson (US 5 950 066) is maintained because the rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 5[8] of Paper No. 081906. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The focus argument related to the core patentability is discussed below.

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 16, last paragraph to page 17, 2nd paragraph), as mentioned in the previous Office action, Hanson teaches a thermal interface composition comprising polyorganosiloxane graft polymer of octadecene and methylsiloxane host that have different substituents, Examiner has a reasonable basis to believe that each has a different solubility parameter. Applicants are reminded that phase separation is not claimed. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims.

In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

8. Rejection of Claims 21, 24, 55 and 58 under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matayabas, rejection of Claims 22 and 56 under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matayabas in view of Mine, rejection of Claims 21, 24, 55 and 58 under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mine, rejection of Claims 21 and 55 under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hanson and rejection of Claims 16 and 50 under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hanson in view of Matayabas'731 are maintained because the rejection is adequately set forth in paragraphs 9[10] to 13[14] of Paper No. 081906. Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The focus argument related to the core patentability is discussed below.

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 17, last paragraph to page 18, 1st paragraph), Examiner disagrees because of the following reasons: First, Applicants are reminded that for these rejections under 35 USC 103(a), the disclosures of the corresponding primary references cited previously are properly incorporated into these rejections. Furthermore, Claims 1 and 35 are anticipated by the prior art, it is inadequate to further reject them under 35 USC 103(a). Second, Applicants are reminded that it is not necessary to have secondary references in obviousness-type rejections, and rejections based on single references are not necessarily anticipation-type.

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 18, 2nd paragraph), Examiner disagrees because the instant claims do not exclude the presence of any additional ingredients. Applicants are further reminded that although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

For Applicants' argument (Remarks, page 18, last paragraph to page 19, 1st paragraph), as mentioned in the previous Office action, the Si-H containing polydiorganosiloxane and the vinyl-containing polydiorganosiloxane have different solubility parameter. Since Matayabas' composition reads on the claimed one, both should possess the same characteristics. Applicants are reminded that phase separation and forming a protective barrier are not claimed. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. In re Van Guens, 988 F. 2d 1811, 26 USPQ 2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993)

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a). A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
